Business Associate Rotational Program

What they do:

- Over the course of three years , rotate through various teams in Fidelity's Asset Management division to gain exposure and experience.
- Work with portfolio managers, research analysts, investment operations professionals, and traders.
- Assist in problem resolution, idea generation, technology solutions, workflow management, and relationship building.
- Obtain permanent placement in a division based on successful participation in the program, their personal interests, and business needs.

Application Window: August 15 – September 15
Location: Boston, MA

Spotlight: Unoma Okolo

Former Business Associate

School: Stanford University
Major: Economics
Graduation Year: 2012

"I would recommend the Business Associate program to graduating students who are either unsure about what exactly they'd like to explore within asset management; or who'd like to gain a holistic view for the asset management business. Each rotation enabled me to develop a new skill set and become a meaningful contributor to the teams I worked with. I came away from the program with a larger professional network and a greater appreciation for how different groups contribute to the overall investment business."